THE SOUL OF NAPOLEON (CLASSIC REPRINT)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Soul of Napoleon We invite the reader s attention to the so-called Gabrielli portrait of Napoleon, executed by Vigneux, and here presented as a rontispiece. This portrait was emphatically declared by the relatives of the Corsican including the Emperor s mother, his sisters, and his uncle, Cardinal Fesch to have been the only one which bore anything like a truthful resemblance to their august kinsman. Prince Gabrielli, its original owner, and a distinguished contemporary and visitor of Napoleon, attached great value to the work on this account. As will be seen, it bears small resemblance to accepted portraits of the Emperor. The majority of the artists who have transmitted to us the traditional face of the Conqueror ascetic, severe and somewhat scowling sought, it would seem, to flatter Napoleon, regarding whose early Classical obsession they were fully informed, by giving to portraits of their illustrious sitter those attributes of feature and expression with which sculptors represent Romans of the heroic age. The portrait by Vigneux dates from 1807, when Napoleon had well outgrown his worship of Antiquity. Genius, we may be certain, in any case, has no specific facial type.
