By Maurice Hewlett

Createspace, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt: . I am very drunk. That is just what I am. Come you with me, said Leif, and you shall be no more drunk. Then it was that Dirk said, Let us sit down. I ll tell you where I ve been. So they sat down together in the moonlight. Then Dirk told him that he had outwalked the others and passed out of the forest belt and reached a ridge of low hills. When he came to them he found that they were a tangle of wild vines. And I know what vines are very well, he stopped to say, for in my country there is no lack of them. Now these vines, he said, were loaded with grapes, some still ripe, but mostly over-ripe and fallen; and in a hollow of the rocks he had come to a pool of water wherein the grapes had fallen and fermented. There, said he, was my wine-vat, and there was I. The rest, master, you know. Can you take me to that place to-morrow? Leif asked him. Dirk...
