I will just leave it at that, and we will have some questions. The prepared statement of Senator Hollings follows: Prepared Statement of Hon. Ernest F. Hollings, U. S. Senator from South Carolina On February 1, America lost seven heroes. Today, the Committee, our witnesses, and NASA have the responsibility to learn from this tragedy so that we will not repeat the mistakes that led to this accident. Mr. Chairman, those of us who have been on this Committee for many years are experiencing a sense of deja vu. Some of the problems highlighted by the Challenger accident are eerily present again. It seems that some of the lessons that we learned about quantifying risk and evaluating near-misses were learned and then forgotten in the ensuing years. For example, since the first Shuttle flights more than 20 years ago, pieces of the external tanks insulating foam have come off during ascent to orbit many times. But the...
